Steve Pedersen

Director, Clinical and Quality Improvement Chinook Primary Care Network

Steve first met design thinking at a Banff Leadership Centre program, Hope Decoded.

With a background in public health, Steve is trained in evidence-based research - but also for years has been cognizant of its shortcomings in spaces where innovation and creativity are needed. With a growing bookshelf on design thinking (he is happy to recommend a few favs!), Steve is a design thinking enthusiast!

Steve currently leads analytics and quality improvement work within the Chinook Primary Care Network, and has a Masters in Public Health from Yale University.